

quoting 450 F.3d at 1341, quoting Bratsk Aluminum Smelter v. United States, 444 F.3d 1369, 1375 (Fed.Cir. 2006); and this court having entered an order of remand in haec verba; and the ITC in compliance with that order having determined that an industry in the United States is not materially injured or threatened with material injury by reason of imports of certain wire rod from Trinidad and Tobago that are sold in the United States at less than fair value; and this court having affirmed that determination sub nom. Mittal Steel Point Lisas Ltd. v. United States, 31 CIT 1041, 495 F.Supp.2d 1374 (2007), and entered an amended final judgment of affirmance; and the intervenor-defendants having appealed therefrom and induced the CAFC to opine, among other things, Mittal Steel Point Lisas Ltd. v. United States, 542 F.3d 867, 877 (Fed.Cir. 2008), that it does not regard the decision in Bratsk as requiring the Commission to presume that producers of non-subject goods would have replaced the subject goods if the subject goods had been removed from the market. Although we stated there, and reaffirm here, that the Commission has the responsibility to consider the causal relation between the subject imports and the injury to the domestic industry, that responsibility does not translate into a presumption of replacement without benefit to the domestic industry[;] and the CAFC having determined to vacate this court's amended final judgment, notwithstanding the ITC's "scrupulous attention to the terms of this court's remand instructions", 542 F.3d at 879, and remand the matter yet again "for further consideration of the material injury issue in light of [it]s opinion" and also "for further proceedings with respect to the threat of material injury", id.; and this court pursuant to the mandate of the CAFC having in slip opinion 10-32, 34 CIT ____ (March 29, 2010), remanded to the ITC to attempt to comply with the CAFC's reasoning, as set forth in its foregoing, more recent opinion, and to report to this court any results of this mandated remand; and the defendant in compliance with the court's latest order of remand having on June 25, 2010 filed the Views of the Commission now to the effect that an industry in the United States is materially injured by reason of imports of wire rod from Trinidad and Tobago that are sold in the United States at less than fair value [;]

and all parties having been afforded an opportunity to comment on said Views; and no party having interposed an objection thereto; Now therefore, after due deliberation, it is

ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED that the view of certain members of the ITC filed herein on June 25, 2010 that an industry in the United States is materially injured by reason of imports of wire rod from Trinidad and Tobago that are sold in the United States at less than fair value be, it hereby is, affirmed; and it is further ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED that this action again be, and it hereby is, finally dismissed.
